WHEN A MAN IS IN THE GRAVE.

If you have any flowers to give to a friend,
Just give them to him now.
Don't wait until he's beneath the sod,
When death's upon his brow,
But speak a kind word, 'twill help him along
And teach him to be brave,
For flowers, you know, will do no good
When a man is in his grave.

If you have a neighbor you know is all right,
Speak up and tell him so,
For a kind word spoken when we're on earth
Is worth all that is said when we go.
Be a friend to a man in all that is asked,
Many sorrows by this you may save,
It's better than all the good things you may say
When a man is in his grave.

If you have any money you think you can spare,
Help some poor old soul in need,
For then you are building a home over there.

By doing that kind of a deed,
Don't wait until you've come to die
To give away dollars you've labored to save,
For remember that dollars will do no good
When a man is in his grave.

Don't look down on a man who's in hard luck,
If he can't dress as fine as you,
For remember that "clothes don't make the man"

Is an adage you'll find to be true.
Though fortune has dealt kindly with him,
And he has no chance to save,
For the rich and the poor will all be the same

When a man is in his grave.
There's a home up there where sweet angels dwell,
Where a man receives his reward,
And the good things you do while here
on earth
Are commendable in the eyes of our Lord.

So think of the things you might have done,
Of some poor soul you may save,
You'll find if you wait the time has passed

When a man is in the grave.
—ALPHONSE BOURLIER.

Moonshine Still Destroyed.

United States Marshal Burnsides, accompanied by deputies, on May 31st raided a moonshine still eight miles east of Danville, in Garrard county. The plant and liquor were destroyed. The alleged operators were placed in jail. This is the first illicit distillery discovered in this section since the Civil War.

Fifty Years Experience.

Mrs. W. W. Ralston, Hopkinsville, Ky., says: "I have been raising chickens for nearly fifty years and Bourbon Polity Cure is the most satisfactory remedy I have ever used for chicken cholera and gapes." Sold by W. S. Lloyd.

A Bit Overdone.

Sheriff Shipp, of Chattanooga, Tenn., was found guilty of contempt because he made no effort to prevent the lynching of a negro to whom the Supreme Court had granted a brief reprieve. He failed to perform the duty to which he was sworn. In fact, he made no effort to perform it.

The Sheriff is neither a hero nor a martyr. He is a man facing punishment for failure to do his duty.—Louisville Times.

Fire Drill Saves Children.

The pupils of the St. Casimir's School in Detroit, Michigan, escaped in safety when fire broke out on the second floor. Nearly 900 pupils were in the school. Fire drills had been frequent and when the alarm was sounded the teachers marshalled the little ones and conducted them down the stairs and fire escapes without injury to any of them.

Dies in Chicago.

Dr. Ryland D. Pratt, of Shelbyville, Ky., aged 41, died at a hospital in Chicago after an operation for internal abscess. He was frequently called to Louisville in consultation by physicians and surgeons.

WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN

For Education in Kentucky--To Invade Every County.

The second "Whirlwind Campaign" for better education in Kentucky has been planned for June 27-July 3, and will be bigger, better and more thorough than the former campaign. It will cover the entire State, both city and county, with special reference to the rural community. The campaign will open Sunday, June 27, when every minister in the State will be asked to deliver an address on "Public Education in Kentucky" from his own pulpit. The regular speakers, one hundred strong, will begin active work on Monday, June 28. In nearly every instance each speaker will cover two counties.

One of the most important events of the campaign in each county will be the "Rally Day." An all-day open-air meeting, with music and marching and special entertainment, has been planned to take place in each county seat. Many noted men in political and official life in Kentucky have been asked to deliver addresses.

One important change in the plan of the coming campaign will be the shifting of the bombardment from the city to the rural community.

"Dr. Thomas' Ecliptic Oil is the best remedy for that often fatal disease—croup. Has been used with success in our family for eight years."—Mrs. L. Whiteacre, Buffalo, N. Y. 47-54.

Owes $144,354.58.

The State of Kentucky is $144,354.58 "in the hole," according to the showing of its bank book at the close of business on May 31. There was to the credit of all funds in the Treasury June 1, exactly $369,626.18, while Auditor's warrants are outstanding to the amount of $513,980.76. The money on hand is apportioned among the three funds as follows: Sinking fund, $171,670.80; school fund, $241,517.87; general expenditure fund, deficit $42,562.49.

Wedding Bells.

Only one married couple in a thousand live to celebrate their golden wedding.

Long engagements are costly in Russia. There etiquette requires the young man to send his fiancée a daily present.

In ancient Greece a divorced man could not marry a woman younger than the one he had discarded.

A feature of the Japanese wedding ceremony is a bonfire where at the bridegroom burns all the bride's old playthings.

Polygamy is practiced in Tibet. It is common there for a woman of intelligence and ability to have six or seven husbands.

In New Guinea the bride cuts off her long hair after the wedding ceremony.

Helen—Ruth was afraid the girls wouldn't notice her engagement ring.

Grace—Did they?

Helen—Did they? Six of them recognized it at once.

Lid On Gambling.

Mayor Skain has issued an order to the police that all forms of gambling alleged to be in operation in Lexington must cease. This action follows the order that all saloons must be kept closed on Sunday.

Who Would Have Known It?

Among the bad things which Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane has found in Louisville are the conditions from which we get much of our bread and meat. She says: "Some of your markets and bakeries are the worst I have ever seen. You have one of the best and cleanest bakeries I ever saw. Screens should be used in your meat markets. I went into some markets and saw swarms of flies, merchants spitting on the floors. The meat baskets are unclean and unsanitary. In one market I visited filth was supreme. Huge piles of filthy sawdust were noticed."

The party visited two bakeries that were simply awful, and men were spitting on the floor, and the bread trays were mouldy. In one bakery a filthy toilet was located where the bread was taken out of the ovens. She said they told her in one bakery that they washed the floor once a year.

The mere knowledge that such repulsive and injurious conditions exist ought to be sufficient in itself to insure their immediate rectification.—Courier-Journal.

Must Serve Year in Penitentiary.

The Court of Appeals has affirmed the one-year penitentiary sentence given M. W. Rowland by a Franklin county jury for appropriating money belonging to the convicts at Frankfort, which was in his charge as clerk of the penitentiary. Rowland's shortage was $1,853.47. Rowland's home was Cynthiana. He claimed that he used part of the money to pay for a dangerous operation upon his brother, intending to replace it out of his salary.

Insurance Blunders.

The way in which application forms for insurance are filled up are often more amusing than enlightening in the following excellent selections:

Mother died in infancy.
Father went to bed feeling well and the next morning woke up dead.

Grandfather died suddenly at the age of 103. Up to this time he had fair to reach a ripe old age.

Applicant does not know anything about maternal posterity except that they died at an advanced age.

Applicant does not know cause of mother's death, but states that she fully recovered from her last illness.

Applicant has never been fatally sick.

Father died suddenly; nothing serious.

Applicant's brother, who was an infant, died when he was a mere child.

Grandfather died from gunshot wound caused by an arrow shot by an Indian.

Applicant's fraternal parents died when he was a child.

Mother's last illness was caused from chronic rheumatism, but she was cured before death—British Medical Journal.

To Confer With Senator McCreary

Judge W. B. Matthews, of Washington, D. C., general counsel of the Copper Mines Company, of Arizona, and Shirley E. Johnson, a New York banker, registered at Lexington.

Judge Matthews said: "We came especially to meet Senator J. B. McCreary, who is president of our company, and to discuss our enterprise with some of the big people in the State."

PRESIDENT

And Premiers Will Travel to Hodgenville to Dedicate Memorial Hall and Accept Old Lincoln Farm as National Park.

Memorial Hall and Lincoln Farm Will Be Dedicated in November.

On February 12 Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, laid the corner stone of the Memorial Hall in Larue county, which, when completed, will be a temple of marble to incense and preserve for centuries to come the little log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born. On Monday of last week, May 31, in the public square at Hodgenville, the county seat of Larue county, a bronze statue, heroic in size, of Lincoln was unveiled in the presence of Robert Todd Lincoln, the son of the war President; Mrs. Ben Hardin Helm, Mrs. Abraham Lincoln's sister; Henry Watterson, Gov. Willson, Judge E. C. O'Rear, and many distinguished men and women from all parts of the State.

But the big celebration is yet to come. The formal dedication of the Memorial Hall on the Lincoln Farm will take place in November, and President W. H. Taft, practically every member of the Cabinet, many United States Senators and members of the House of Representatives will be at Hodgenville. Thousands will pour into the little town to hear President Taft and see him dedicate the old Lincoln homestead as a national park.

"It will be the biggest event of its kind ever given in America. No such celebration was ever held at Mt. Vernon as will be held at Hodgenville."

WALKS GO UP.

The solid granite walls of the Memorial Hall are rapidly going up. In the place of the rough-hewn logs of the Lincoln cabin, granite walls, twenty-seven inches in thickness, are to be built skyward. The footpath from the old spring to the cabin, used by Tom Lincoln and Nancy Hanks, has vanished and a flight of granite steps, almost fifteen feet wide, lead the way up the hill from the lowlands. Dwellings are being built about the farm and flower beds and grass plots are being made. A part of the old farm is to be preserved just as it was when Lincoln left it, but the remainder is to be made to blossom like a rose.

In the Memorial Hall is to be preserved the Lincoln cabin, and the Lincoln relics. It is understood that Robert Lincoln is to present a number of interesting heirlooms, books and other articles which belonged to his father to the museum.

WHEN WAS JOYOUS.

Adolph Weinman, the young New York sculptor who modeled the features of Lincoln into the bronze statue, said: "People have been good enough to tell me that the statue is the best ever made of Lincoln. Of course, they may be flattery, but I am well pleased with my work."

"From what photograph or painting did you work?"

"From over 100 photographs and paintings," he replied. "I used every one I could get my hands on, but I would discard them as I studied and worked, and the face itself was made, I should say, from some three or four photographs conceived by men and women who knew Lincoln well, as the most perfect likeness of him. It required twenty-two months to complete the work."

COST OF STATUE $13,000.

The cost of the Lincoln statue was $13,000. A third of the money was appropriated by the Commonwealth of Kentucky, a part by the United States Government, and a part was contributed by Kentuckians, a number of them residents of Larue county.

SIGHT AND SEERS COME AND GO.

People of the town say that men and women from all parts of the State are journeying to the Lincoln Farm. A day never passes that there are not visitors at the farm. A big majority of them come from the East, but there have been many foreigners there. The citizens say that when the farm is dedicated as a park and the roads are converted into handsome driveways the Lincoln Farm will be a shrine for the people that will eclipse Mt. Vernon in every respect. The place is never to be known as "Lincoln Park." It is ever to be known as the "Lincoln Farm." The words "Lincoln Farm" have already been cut into the granite over the gateways leading into the place, and the people have been instructed to speak of it only as the "Lincoln Farm."

We clip the following from speeches made at the unveiling of the statue:

"They feel that his little log cabin will be a second Mt. Vernon and that the great heart of the nation will turn to it with the same fervor and fidelity they have lavished upon the magnificent home by the Potomac."—John M. Alorton.

"I now accept this noble memorial of our country's greatest man. It is eminently fitting that here, in his native State and in the county seat of his native county, such a memorial should be established. It is a tribute, rather, to the just pride and proper self-respect of the State and city."—George Da Relle.

"We pay homage to the memory of the American Pioneer. He was in every essential a man. His was a spirit that would not endure bonds; the independence that scorned servility. Like him who was called, 'the voice crying in the wilderness,' much of his life was isolated and obscure, his lot hard, his course an inspiration."—E. C. O'Rear.

"As our children see this statue before us, they let us hope, will ponder the lessons of his life and take new courage to live, as he did, their trials, joys and sorrows. Here they will see the prize of intellect and morality; but they will feel also the cares and perils of greatness. In whatever land liberty is trodden down—wherever a slave feels a master's lash—the name of Lincoln will be loved and revered!"—E. J. McBurnett.

"Born as lowly as the Son of God, in a hovel; reared in penury, squalor, with no gleam of light or fair surrounding; without graces, actual or acquired; without name or fame or official training; it was reserved for this strange being, late in life, to be snatched from obscurity raised to supreme command at a supreme moment, and entrusted with the destiny of a nation."

"The great leaders of his party, the most experienced and accomplished public men of the day, were made to stand aside; were sent to the rear, whilst this fantastic figure was led by unseen hands to the front and given the reins of power. It is immaterial whether we were for him, or against him; wholly immaterial. That, during four years, carrying with them such a weight of responsibility as the world never witnessed before, he filled the vast space allotted him in the eyes and actions of mankind, is to say that he was inspired of God, for nowhere else could he have acquired the wisdom and the virtue."—Henry Watterson.

H. C. Greenwald, 25 Queen street, Mt. Sterling, Ky., says:

"I attribute my kidney trouble to the constant strain required in my work as a blacksmith. While I was never in such a condition that I was not able to work, nevertheless I was in misery. I frequently had severe attacks of lumbago, which sometimes lasted for days and weeks, and made my life and work a burden instead of a pleasure. I am pleased to say that Don's Kidney Pills, procured at F. C. Denson's drug store, gave me prompt relief from the last attack and since using them I have had no recurrence. I am pleased to recommend this remedy to other sufferers from kidney complaint."

PUT YOURSELF IN OUR PLACE.

The duty of a newspaper to the public is occasionally the subject of animated discussion. It is sometimes difficult for those not directly connected with a newspaper to realize two essential facts: first, that a newspaper is private property, not a public institution; that no newspaper can be either influential or permanent which is not successful in making its receipts exceed its expenditures; that the only commodities a newspaper publisher has to sell is space in his advertising columns and copies of his paper. The second is that it must be a matter of choice what appears in either of the editorial or news columns of a paper.

"Scores of people have no conception of the fact that a newspaper has to depend upon the sale of space in its advertising columns for its existence, just as a merchant, or coal dealer, or farmer, has to depend upon the sale of goods or produce, or a lawyer or physician or laborer upon the sale of his services. The requests which are made that free service be done by a newspaper would, we imagine, astound anyone not directly connected with a daily paper.

"We think it is a moderate estimate to say that such requests for free advertising in the columns of our paper, for reading notices, for boasts of various enterprises aggregate during the year, a demand for space worth nearer ten than five thousand dollars. And it is not a rare occurrence to have one who is neither a subscriber nor a patron of the paper to ask the insertion of an advertisement for some particular object, coupling with it a request that a copy of the paper be sent him so that he can see that the notice or the display advertisement is as he wishes.

"It is a much rarer occurrence to have anyone who asks such favors indicate in any way his appreciation of the fact that the paper is doing exactly the same favor a merchant would do if he contributed goods. We doubt if there is any newspaper man who does not sometimes get a little bit track-sore, and feel it would be better to make it an invariable rule to publish no reading notices or display advertisements for which regular charges are not made and collected, contributing, if he desires, the amount of the charge to the enterprise for which the free advertisement is asked.

"It often seems inexplicable to us how insistent some citizens are that a newspaper shall take an aggressive position on some particular question in which they are interested, when they themselves are unwilling to have any definite views on the subject.

"We had recently a visit from a delegation composed of three

WITHDRAWS FROM RACE.

C. F. Ringo, of Menefee, candidate for the Legislature, in the district composed of Menefee and Montgomery, has withdrawn from the race. Until we saw his card we had not heard that Mr. W. L. Craig was a candidate. Below we give some extracts:

WITHDRAWAL CARD.

In the course of human events there comes to each of us that golden opportunity to sacrifice coveted honors, yea, silver and gold for our country's betterment, and I have reached that point. I submit to you herewith, my withdrawal from the race for Representative, wholly in the interest of the cause I represent, to-wit: Temperance and Morality. This platform was broad enough for my opponent, Mr. L. C. Davis, and me to stand upon, and we were each conducting our campaign along these lines. But over in one corner there was an element that cried out, a little "Booze! Oh for the man who can handle a little Booze!"

While Menefee County has put her heel upon King Alcohol's neck and crushed to death the whisky traffic, yet, I am sorry to say, there are people who will follow after the damnable stuff. I will not handle it, neither will I contend with or divide up the vote with a colleague against the common enemy, when there is a shadow of danger ahead.

I am no longer a candidate, but like every other voter, I must now choose between Mr. L. C. Davis and Mr. W. L. Craig. Voter, ask with me these questions: Are these men temperate in their habits? Are they moral? Have they unduly pressed their political claims upon the people? To the first two, L. C. Davis answers "Yes." To the third he answers "No." How does W. L. Craig measure up to this standard?

One fellow said to me, "Craig is in favor of Prohibition." That I will admit in one sense of the word, and that is, he will prohibit the bottle from passing his own lips until they have sucked its contents. I do not know about the second question.

Voter, arise and assert your manhood! It has been rumored that certain parties will flood the county with whisky (and it is being done now) in order to debauch her voters. I desire to say here, that Menefee's Democracy is not for sale, and that defeat and disgrace await the party or parties who indulge in same.

Voter, go to the polls on June 26, 1903, and cast your vote for a man who advocates and practices a high standard of citizenship in the presence of your wives and daughters. The moral tone of legislation cannot rise higher than that of our legislators.

CHAS. F. RINGO.

For years Mr. Craig, County Judge, has been our friend. He now aspires to represent our county in the Legislature. We do not intend to be hostile toward him by printing the above, but wish to know his position, and we extend to him the use of our columns. Our position on the question of temperance is well known.

REFORM.

Rev. E. G. B. Mann at Lexington on Sunday preached on "The Methods of True Reform." He first considered the need of reform as declared by visiting preachers, traveling men, a prominent official and the President of Kentucky University. (Does he mean State University?) He next asked: "Should the spirit of reform be sane and substantial or should it be sensational?" "I think it should be substantial. I have never thought it a good plan to laundry our soiled linen in public." "Is it right to depend on some outside people—like Mrs. Crane or Brooks Brothers—to attempt to reform the city in one night, like Jonah grieved his gourd? I have no harsh word or even unkind intimation for the persons just referred to. They meant well and probably did good. But this is not what we need. This is a work that the citizens of Lexington should do for themselves."

Above is the paper report.

The laws can be enforced in Lexington, conditions surrounding the hundreds of students who annually gather at Lexington can be greatly improved, officers will do their duty in Lexington in preachers, teachers, editors and other citizens determine that laws must be enforced in Lexington.

If outside people like Mrs. Crane and Brooks Brothers are necessary to stir up Lexington, let them come. Visitors sometimes see and hear what homefolks miss, or seeing and knowing, fail to expose.

The whole stock is sold at Mill Remnant Sale prices at Newmeyer's.

NO SUNDAY GAMES.

Mayor B'Brien, of Paris, Ky., on Monday issued an order to the Chief of Police that no more Sunday baseball playing will be tolerated in Paris. In a letter to J. W. Bacon, president of the Paris baseball club, the Mayor fully explained the causes for his order, viz: Noise and confusion, the crowds on the streets are a nuisance, occurrences on the grounds and street cars are disgraceful, whiskey drinking (by patrons of game) from blind tigers outside of city limits, swearing on the street in presence even of ladies, etc., etc. He states he has no other alternative.

Men who have much self-respect, who have regard for the Lord's day and its services, who have high conceptions of citizenship, will not take pleasure in such resorts on the Lord's day and the usual characters that frequent them on the Lord's day.

The restraints of law should not be necessary, unless officers of the law have to deal with toughs. We think that athletics can be conducted honorably and with pleasure and recreation to the patrons, but we have no favor for the usual Sunday sport. It betokens evil for our country.

THERE IS ONE

Clothing House in Mt. Sterling which always HAS done, is NOW doing and will CONTINUE to do business on the fixed and unalterable principle of TELLING THE TRUTH about its merchandise and giving its patrons the MOST and the BEST for their money; marching ever under the magic slogan, "Progress," at the HEAD of the procession. This store is with a record of almost a QUARTER of a CENTURY of square dealing behind it; with a store that its owners can point with pride as a substantial monument to the business which erected it.

Others may waver, change front, and be lured into the bogs and quicksands of misrepresentation and trickery, to TEMPORARILY INFLATE THEIR DRAGGING business. Not so with us. We are doing a business PERFECTLY SATISFACTORY to ourselves—a business of GREATER VOLUME this year than last. Our organization is farther reaching and more effective; our FACILITIES are being continually enlarged; our capital is sufficient to command the BEST, which the PRODUCING world ever put upon the market.

We are grateful to the many patrons who started with us as BOYS and REMAIN with us as FATHERS. We fully appreciate the NEW patronage which we are getting all the time. We BELIEVE in and are PROUD of Mt. Sterling, which we have watched day by day and seen grow from a town of lanterns and street lamps to a hustling city with electric lights, natural gas water works and conveniences that many a great city would be envious of. This is our declaration of principles. If you like them come and do

The MANHATTAN SHIRT needs no praise for its quality or its style; it needs no advertising nor talk to sell it. All that one has to do is to get them—that's the most important point. can only be established and maintained by selling goods of a standard brand and selling the best grades of these brands. J. & M., Eclipse and W. L. Douglas Shoes have made a place for themselves in this store because they are superior to any other goods offered in the shoe lines. The styles are correct. We can fit more hard-to-fit people, please more particular people and give better service to people who want service than any shoe store in East Kentucky, because we buy right and sell right.

The Spring and Summer styles are now on sale and selling.

The Students' Suit. How would you think a Students' Suit would be cut? Don't the name suggest youth, snap, dash, and maybe a little sentiment on the side? Well, that's what the Students' Suit is. It's built for the young chap who is living every minute of the time—a three-button sack, cut long with decided form fitting back, broad shoulders and full flaring skirt, the vest is in keeping with the spirit of the coat and the trousers are those full-hipped fellows who girdle the waist tight, hold on to the hips and are finished with a big deep 3-inch cuff at bottom that you turn up yourself. Picture a beautiful blue serge, a regatta stripe or a beautiful Fitzburgh worsted in a students' cut and the prices are reasonable

The All-Wool Policy

NOTICE.—Believing that the day will come when all things will be branded what they really are, we began agitating with men well up in the manufacture of clothing—an all-wool policy—and we have succeeded to no small degree in the advancement of such an idea.

Today, some of the best concerns, namely, Stein-Bloch and Hamburger Bros., are making into the finished garments no cloth which is not absolutely all wool and free from cotton fiber. These goods are branded all wool and will stand the test. We do not hope to increase our sales by the information furnished along these lines or the part we are taking for the betterment of the clothing business, but we do hope to raise it to a higher standard for the common good. Stein-Bloch and Hamburger Bros. Spring and Summer Suits are now on display and easily shown from our dust-proof modern cabinets.

Prices range from : $15 to $35

We will take pleasure in showing you any day in the week from 7 a. m. until 6 p. m.

The All Wool Policy

has charge of every clothing spot in this store. Even our $10 Suits of Serge Worsteds, Cassimeres, Thibets and Cheviots, made in the famous Fifth Avenue and Manhattan styles are absolutely ALL WOOL. Think of it, an all-wool suit for $10 from a store that knows wool, from a store that has honorably existed in your city for almost a quarter of a century. Style with quality, quality and price the maximum of the former, the minimum of the latter, the store where you ought to buy, the store that invites your inspection.

The All-Wool Policy in the Boys' Dept.

Often we hear some customer say, a little cotton is good in clothes. Well, we say the "littler" the better. Take our advice, let the other fellow get the cotton and you take the wool. Go to a store that knows wool after it has been taken from the sheep's back. It's more important that your boys' clothes should be all wool than any other member of the family. See that the cloth is free from grease that so often remains from poor washing of the raw material. Save all these things which expert buying on our part insures you. Bring the boy here and see the new Suits, Hats, Shoes, Undewear and Furnishings in our big department on the Balcony. A boys' store Suit from $3 to $12.50, Cap at 50c, Hats $1 to $2.50, Shoes, $1.75, $2, $2.50, $3.

A look here shows your appreciation for our efforts in showing a great line of washable suits for Summer wear at $1 to $5, ages from 2 to 10.

PRIZE ESSAY

BY A BOY FIFTEEN YEARS OLD.

In this issue appears a prize essay on the subject: How to Improve and Beautify Mt. Sterling. A prize was offered to the Rhetoric class of M. S. C. I., for the best composition on this subject, and the papers were submitted to five judges: Mr. Hoffman Wood, Prof. W. H. Cord, Mr. Bruce Trimble, Mr. Stahley Wood and Rev. H. G. Moody, three of whom, after careful deliberation, awarded the prize to Bruce Robbins.

Mr. Robbins is about 15 years of age and is a son of Dr. A. H. Robbins, of this county. The following deserve honorable mention: Emma Hamilton, Clyde Brown, Nancy Jones, Cora Myers.

HOW TO IMPROVE AND BEAUTIFY MT. STERLING.

There are some things which the town will have in the near future, such as the new depot, which will be built by the C. & O. Railroad. The depot will give the town a lively appearance. It will keep the town from looking as though it were dead.

The government building will keep the postal service from being so crowded.

The opera house will afford a new social life among the young people, and keep the people from dying because of the monotony. All of these buildings will add greatly to the appearance of the town.

Much business is carried on and these new buildings will show it, and visitors will be favorably impressed.

There are quite a number of things which are needed, among the important ones, a new school building, a sewer system, and brick streets.

If all the pupils of school age were in school and forced to attend regularly, as the law requires, the present building would be insufficient, and the country pupils would thus be shut out.

By having a new school building the pupils from the country will have a chance to get an education, and the morals of the children will be improved by not allowing them to remain on the streets and idle away their valuable time.

It is against the law for children to be kept out of school and forced to labor. Interest in education should be awakened, which will secure the desired building.

Brick streets are another thing which any progressive town like Mt. Sterling should have. Oiling the streets will only suffice for the present. Eventually brick streets will come, and may they come quickly. They could be built at a cost not exceeding $25,000. The city could issue bonds and within ten years they could be paid for.

A sewer system is essential to the health of this town. Sanitary conditions should be observed above anything else. Clean streets are essential to the health and beauty of the town.

Much can be accomplished towards clean streets by private improvement, such as painting and white washing fences and cleaning in front of premises.

Horse trading on the public square should be prohibited, and a lot outside the city limits provided for that purpose.

A Civic League is important in the carrying on of a campaign for the city's welfare and improvement. Much has been accomplished in Lexington, Birmingham and other places by Civic Leagues, and this should be an couragement to the forming of one in this town.

By never trying the citizens will accomplish little, if anything. The public sentiment aroused to the need of public improvement is more powerful than ordinances passed by the City Council.

So long as the citizens are lax and indifferent about the public affairs, so long will the city government be.

Much could be done in distributing seeds of different kinds and having inspection and offering rewards. The children should be especially aroused, for they can do a great work.

The citizens should leave politics out of the matter, all march under the same banner, work toward the same end and have the same motto, "Public Improvement" and not halt till their hopes shall have culminated in things real and permanent.

Memorial Services.

A highly interesting and instructive memorial service, in honor of the soldiers of the Confederacy, was held at the Christian Church on Thursday morning under the management of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Mrs. C. D. Grubbs presided at the organ. The soloists were Mrs. Stella Cooper Gay and Gemil Senf. The choruses were "Dixie," "Cover Them Over With Flowers" and "Star Spangled Banner." The introductory remarks by Rev. E. O. Guerrant recounted many trials incident to the boys in gray. The address of the occasion was by Rev. J. L. Weber, who is a gifted and popular speaker.

CROSS OF HONOR

were conferred upon C. F. Keese, W. S. Berkeley, C. H. Rice, Wm. Bridgforth, J. I. Robinson, Mrs. Margaret Cooper and Mrs. Ann Priest. In addition to the above five veterans the others present were, J. G. Greer, John English, H. Phipps, R. C. Robinson, J. T. Highland, J. W. Chennault, G. B. Swango, Marion Hadden, C. W. Harris, Nick Hadden, S. F. Pizer, Robert Marshall, John Redmon, Joe Scott, S. W. Gaiskiss, Jno. C. Cook, Isaiah Givens, A. A. Ramey, E. O. Guerrant.

Rev. Moody pronounced the benediction. After the close of the exercises at the church the graves of comrades in March 1861 were decorated, after which an elegant dinner was served at the National Hotel.

To Pool or Not to Pool.

The quarterly meeting of the District Board of the Burley Tobacco Society began in Winchester Tuesday formally passing on continuing the pool this year and formulating plans on which to conduct the campaign for the pooling of the crop of the present year will be considered. The plan that apparently meets with the approval of the majority of the board will be personal solicitation together with newspaper publicity and advertising. The pledge is practically the same as the one under which the crop just sold was pooled.

Unless a large per cent. of the crop is pledged there will be no pool. It is thought that more than 90 per cent. of the crop will be pooled.

DEATHS.

TURLEY.—The infant of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Turley died on Friday, June 4, 1909. The joys of a few days have fled, but another link that unites to heaven has been forged.

PEED.—Wm. M. Peed, aged 81, died on Monday at 4 o'clock p. m. at the home of his son-in-law, Tim Kerns, in this county. The funeral service will be held by Rev. Froh at the home today at 9:30 o'clock and the burial will be in Macphelah. The family came from Mason several years ago. Since then and while living at Grassy Lick, Mrs. Peed died. He leaves nine children, of these James lives in our city, Lawrence and Charley in the county, George at Owingsville and Dan at Paris. Mr. Peed was a fine citizen highly respected by his neighbors.

GREENE.—Mrs. Sam T. Greene died at her residence in this city on Friday, June 4, 1909. The funeral service was held at the home on Saturday at 4 o'clock by Rev. H. D. Clark and the burial was in Macphelah. Five weeks ago she fell down the stairway and broke her hip. Since then her condition has been critical. She was 66 years old, the eldest of 11 children of the venerable J. H. Mark, of Paris, now 92 years old. Of her brothers and sisters only two remain: Mrs. John McClure, of Winchester, and B. F. Mark, of our county. Mrs. Greene is survived by her husband and six children: Misses Fisher and Eula and R. Fulton, of this city; Mrs. Marshall Foley, of Lexington; Leslie, of Nicholas, and Chas. J., of Jellico, Tenn. For many years she has been a member of the Christian Church. She was a kind friend and neighbor, a devoted mother. Her children will call her blessed.

DEPP.—Many in the county, especially in Spencer Creek neighborhood, will miss S. A. (Alex.) Duff. After a few hours' sickness he died at his home near Spencer on Wednesday night at 11 o'clock, June 2, 1909. He was born in Virginia or March 27, 1829, hence had passed his four score of years. In 1846 he married Miss Sallie Hanks in Wolfe county in what is now Breathitt. The family moved to this (Montgomery) county in 1871 and has since occupied the present home. Of the children born to them eight lived to manhood's estate. Of these, three have died: J. C. B. Duff, Mrs. Cogswill and Mrs. Jno. Horton. The aged mother, yet strong, survives with five: Mesdames W. G. Resnor, J. T. Coons, I. D. Yocum, of Spencer; Wm. H. Pieratt, of Bethel, Ky., and a son, Henry S. Duff, of Spencer. He was a member of the Baptist Church. He was successful in business, but this is not the chief heritage which he leaves for his children. His life has been consistent with his profession; his daily walk has won the confidence, respect and high regard of those with whom he came in contact. Strength of character and body have been his even unto the end. The funeral service was held at the home on Friday morning by Rev. J. R. Hobbs, of this city. The burial was in Macphelah by Alma Lodge F. & A. M., of Camargo, of which he was an honored member. His work is over; his rest with the people of God has begun.

Children's Day for Foreign Missions was observed at the Christian church on Sunday at the usual school hour. An interesting program of song and recitations by the little folks was observed. Many took part. The money collected by the children and the contributions amounted to $46.21.

On Sunday morning 38 members of the Women's Bible Class were present at the Christian church. Probably 20 other women not enrolled in the class came to hear the Children's Day exercises. The lesson for next Sunday morning is Hebrews, 1:1—40. The subject is the Heroes of Faith. The teacher's method is by lecture, yet he invites the ladies to ask questions and to express their opinions if they so desire. The invitation to attend is extended to all.

Prof. Cord agrees to spend $3,000 for a building and to maintain a school for at least five years if a suitable site, costing approximately $1,000, is provided by the citizens. They will be at home at Portsmouth, Va., after Sept. 1. The bride has many friends here at the home of her childhood, who wish her much happiness.

GOODPASTER-JOHNSON.

Our paper went to press yesterday afternoon before a social event of great importance took place. After repeated efforts we failed to get such facts as we desired, hence we can only give some facts in anticipation of the happy event. The marriage of Mr. S. H. Goodpastor, of Owingsville, to Miss Anna Johnson, of our city. The groom is the son of Judge Webb Goodpastor, and is a talented young lawyer. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Thomas Johnson and is a very popular and attractive. The bridal party was composed of 20 young ladies and gentlemen.

The marriage occurred at the Christian Church on Tuesday evening, June 8, 1909, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Franklin Davis, of the Episcopal Church, assisted by Rev. H. D. Clark. The pulpit was banked solid with ferns and other evergreens. After the ceremony an elegant reception was given to the bridal party and a few friends.

Nightingales Under a Ban.
It is said that no nightingales sing in Havering, England. Legend has it that the singing of the birds disturbed the devotions of Edward the Confessor when at his Havering palace, and he therefore placed them under a ban from which they have never recovered.

Norman Duncan Describes Interview with Leader Whose Well Known Attitude of the People of the Desert.

The sheikh's young son came in, curiosity having got the better of his shyness at last; he added confidently to his father, and was thus embraced (in the way of these Arab fathers), presently he had snuggled close to his father's feet, and was become one of our company, while Norman Duncan, in Harper's, I inquired then, in a blundering way concerning the boy's education—would he be sent to the schools in Cairo?

"He was born here," was the answer.

"What matter?"

"He will truly live here."

"It is the custom of the western fathers," I ventured, "to advance their sons above themselves."

"Yes, but this is done," he asked.

"It is said," I replied, "that the schools of the schools promote it."

"If I send my son to the schools," he answered, "like a man who had pondered much upon the problem and become resolved, I shall accomplish his ruin. If I send him away he will either remain away or return; if he remain, he will be forever unhappy, having been born to the freedom of his father's desert. If he return, he will be forever unhappy also, having tasted indulgence, having been corrupted by the luxury of the city. Now, if I send my son away to the schools, and if he remain away, he will either succeed or fail in life. But how born in this desert, shall he succeed, being forever at a disadvantage in an alien place? If he succeed, what shall compensate him for the stress and confinement he must suffer? He must live in a room; but how shall he endure to live in a room? And if he fail, what then shall become of him? I will keep my son with his tribesmen in the sand, that he may be strong, and courageous and free. We dwell content, cultivating our few dates, raising our flocks in peace, exchanging our poor wealth for the corn and cloth of other places, so satisfying all our simple needs. What shall a man want more than his freedom? We are oppressed neither by labor nor wicked men, and we live in our own place, according to the will of God."

"You are, then, content with the life you have lived?"

"It is so."

"And would live it over again, died for death, day by day, as you have lived it, since the beginning?"

"Truly, khalifa."

My question had never before been answered in this way. I was amazed.

"What is the explanation of your contentment?" I demanded.

He looked up bewildered.

"Why, I repeated, 'are you content?'"

"God willing," he replied, "I will answer your question; I live where I am born."

Grooming.

Abdolyman thought more highly of his horse than of his women kind but woman, as it chanced, was crafty.

"Why does he esteem her so highly?" she asked herself, and resolutely faced the task of finding out.

Her first answer was "The horse will carry a heavier load."

Her next, "The horse doesn't talk back at him."

But neither of those, somehow, impressed her as being correct.

"Most likely," she declared, "at night, it is in the grooming. Well, I'll just be well groomed myself and see."

It was a lucky guess, and, fitted that time (ward) woman's position rose, relatively, until in the hour the horse has scarcely a blink, even at the horse show—Fork.

Born in Overcoats.

In his fur-lined coat the explorer shivered.

"The Terra del Pucan is born in an overcoat," he said. "That is a fact. The Terra del Pucan will be naked early and hardly, in a snowfield."

The climatic is the worst, the very worst in the world. All the year round hail and rain fall on him, and during the winter season, when it snows, he is covered with his business and content in the downpour, and you shiver to see the little mounds of snow on his bare shoulders slowly melting.

"This poor complaining savage in born in an overcoat, and cold can't penetrate his leather hide."

His Best Part.

The flying machine acute spoke bitterly.

"See here," he said, "our bill for that monoplane has been running all months now."

"Good!" the aviator roared in cold accents. "I am glad there is something connected with that machine that will run for more than 15 minutes."

From His Pa's Folks.

"She doesn't know where the baby gets his bad temper from?"

"She doesn't!"

"No."

"That's strange. Most young mothers can place that sort of responsive ability in a trice."

CORRESPONDENCE.

STOOPS.

(too late for last week.)

Clover is better than it has been for many years.

Little Miss Shirley Shropshire has been very ill.

Bert Saunders and wife visited the family of W. M. Kissick at Little Rock Saturday and Sunday.

Several persons say that they have seen a large rattlesnake in the Springfield church yard. A rattlesnake in the bluegrass is out of the ordinary.

The yield of bluegrass seed will hardly be as large as it was last year, but the quality will be much better.

Thomas Richardson has about completed his contract of sawing for J. M. Bigstaff.

Mrs. Sallie A. Taul and grandson, Sanford Taul, of near Carlisle, visited relatives here last week.

New Rules for Care of Babies.

Weigh your baby every week.

Do not feed it with a nursery bottle.

Do not let flies touch it.

Do not give it a "pacifier."

Do not rock it and juggle it up and down.

Pacifiers cause adenoids and often total deafness, enlarge the tonsils and cause the baby's mouth to grow away.

But what are we going to do to keep them still?

Bathe your baby every day, keep it clean and cool, and don't let the flies get at it. Then it will be so comfortable it won't want to cry. Weigh it every week. A normal, healthy baby gains all the time, and if you don't show an increase at the end of the week something is wrong; your diet or the baby's is not right. This is the only way to insure your baby's health.

Building Operations Drop in 1908.

Official reports of the United States Geological Survey, just published, show there was a large falling off in building operations for the year 1908. Forty-nine cities in the United States in 1908 put up 163,067 buildings, valued at $246,167,390.

Almost 40 per cent. of the buildings were of fire resisting materials and for the whole group the average cost was $9,089 as against the average of $2,101 for frame buildings. Reading, Pa., built no wood structures, and of the 13,363 buildings in Philadelphia only forty-five were of wood. Los Angeles led all the cities in the number of its wooden buildings, a total of 4,679 averaging $1,353. For all classes of cement the total for 1908 was 52,779,925 barrels.

Small Scale Love.

Dr. Pierce Underhill, whose book on divorce and marriage is to appear next month in Indianapolis, delivered a lecture on divorce recently in a fashionable Indianapolis church.

"Extraneous," he began, "is one of the big causes of divorce. My cousin, a bank clerk, married a pretty girl and took her home to a nice little flat. But she frowned and bit her lip."

"Oh, Jack," she said, "I can't live in a tiny flat like this!"
